Abide in the Wind

—First Arc Postscript—

Story Art Shin Wook

Hello, it's the author.

Challenge Month: January 2011
Never Official Release: December 2011
Prologue + first arc!
Total of 113 chapters February 2014...

Thank you so much to all the readers, thanks to your love, I could come this far. I love you all so much.

During October 2010

While preparing the plot and setting for Abide in the Wind,
I was in agony trying to set up a proper story.

I heard it's really hard to keep up if your first project is a long, I wonder if I can do this.

-It's really hard.

I also heard it's better to familiarize yourself with the art
before starting.

-This is also true.

But I want to have fun while drawing.
It'll work out
somehow, right...?

-I suffered for 114 weeks after this.

But what if Kairak isn't popular?

This is a pure love story
and he's the same height
as the heroine.

Due to the nature of his race, he's supposed to be passive to the extent that he's incomprehensible.

He does grow up,
but that's quite a bit later...

Kuroki, 200 years old
Race: Dragon.

Is this fine for a
male protagonist?

insecure insecure insecure...

Popularity Vote first place

Closely second place:

Third place:

Th-Thank you?

Kairak does not speak to anyone but Rensa (Ripenas), Dylan and other Dragons.

If there's any part where Kairak is talking to anyone other than Rensa, it's an error so please email me at hackdab@urcom.com and I'll secretly edit that out.

Though it won't be apparent in the story, Renma is good at cooking. She is also known as a formidable student with a bright personality capable of many talents.

Daughter of my mother's friend.

Had this been a normal story,
she would've been a perfect girl,
but somehow she became the heroine of Abide in the Wind... Sorry—

I think she would look like this if Abide was set in modern times, right?

Mechanical Engineering Major
From a family
of scholars

T-shirt +
jeans + tools

Versatile in all forms of art

From a fatherless
family
~~Mother's love~~
~~to love~~
"Military Rank"

Military cadet

Father is five stars

Uniform
+
Gun

Hero, who is in charge
of magazine covers

Professional archer

Maybe they can be transported to another world

and will need to find a way back to their world...

I wonder what Kaurik eats
to maintain his youth

This isn't what I'm supposed to be doing!

Abide in the Wind changes its location every episode, so I'm thorough in designing unique settings.

■ If you remember each location, then I've succeeded.

Maybe it is the library

or a square in the middle of a city

Perhaps even a train station
with a big clock tower

I think any fantasy world
would have one of these

A romantic story of a girl and a Dragon—

A story of a girl who met the last Dragon on this planet.

In the first arc, Kanna

met a Dragon and became a being known as the Ryugens,

lost her father and left her home,

met the Image and gained companions,

overcame the dangers of the Labyrinth.

was caught in an act of terrorism,

shared a date with someone she loved,

was drained for murder,

and then, eventually, crushed

and separated from her Dragon.

In the second arc,

you can anticipate many more calamities to befall.

Karak, 299 years old

—Currently at the age of storm and gale—

You'll meet again. Seriously.
Really, I'm telling the truth.

The second arc is separated into three episodes.

I'll prepare in advance and meet you again in the first week of June with "Episode 7. Derton."

Thank you very much.
